MISSION STATEMENT

The Fort Wayne Police Department, in partnership with our community, will strive to protect the life, property, and personal liberties of all individuals. We believe that the overall quality of life for all residents will improve through the deterrence of criminal activity and an understanding of the diversity of cultures within this community. Furthermore, we recognize the need for fair and impartial enforcement of the law with attention given to the highest possible quality of service delivery to the community.

INTRODUCTION

Starting in 1697, the French and British built a series of three forts at the confluence of the St. Joseph River, St. Mary’s River, and Maumee River near the Miami Indiana village of Kekionga. The fort was built in 1794 and was named in honor of General “Mad” Anthony Wayne. Fort Wayne was platted in 1823 and experienced a rapid expansion after completion of the Wabash and Erie Canal. The proud tradition of the Fort Wayne Police Department began in 1829 with a single “Village Marshal”. That tradition continues today with 460 sworn officers and 100 civilians and has been led by Police Chief Russell P. York.

Police Chief Russell “Rusty” P. York served his 14th year as Chief of Police, serving the 251,000 citizens of Fort Wayne. Chief York is assisted by Assistant Chief Karl Niblick, Deputy Chief Martin Bender of the Northwest Quadrant, Deputy Chief James Feasel of the Northeast Quadrant, Deputy Chief Steve Haffner of the Southwest Quadrant, Deputy Chief Garry Hamilton of the Southeast Quadrant, Deputy Chief Paul Shrawder of the Investigative Support Division, and Deputy Chief Steve Reed of the Training Academy.

In 2014, Chief York will be transitioning into a new role as the Public Safety Director for the City of Fort Wayne and Garry Hamilton, who has recently served the Fort Wayne Police Department as the Deputy Chief for the Southeast Quadrant, will step into the role of Police Chief. Garry has performed a variety of command positions during his 20 years of service and brings a wealth of knowledge and experience into his new role.

INTERNAL AFFAIRS:

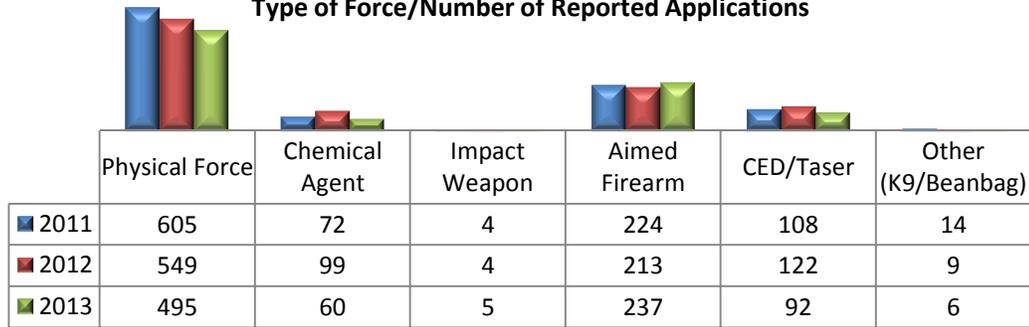

The Office of Professional Standards, Internal Affairs Unit, saw an overall increase in activity during the 2013 calendar year.

3-year Comparison of Formal Investigations

* Includes torts & lawsuits

Type of Force/Number of Reported Applications

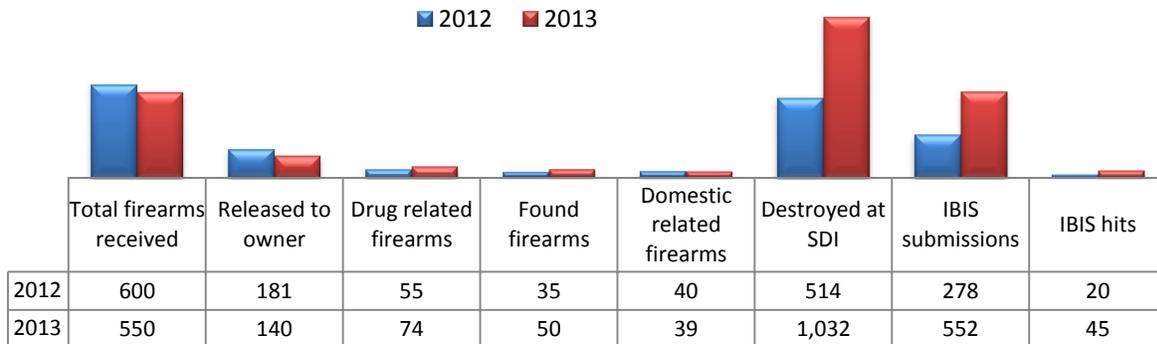

INFORMATION SYSTEMS & TECHNOLOGY UNIT (ISTU):

In 2013 the ISTU continued its core mission of maintaining the integrity of the Spillman system database and the maintenance of the Department’s fleet of in-car mobile data computers. During 2013 the installation of ArchAngel II safety devices in Operation’s vehicles concluded and now has moved into an update /maintenance phase. ISTU was also instrumental in the implementation of the new in-car camera ecosystem, which will become the standard for FWPD squad cars as new vehicles are introduced into the fleet. In addition, the Fort Wayne/Allen County Spillman system underwent a seismic shift during the year. The upgrade to version 6.2 occurred in May and with it came a new system architecture that lays the ground work for complete rewrites of every module in the system. The unit continued working on an interface between Spillman and JTAC’s eCWS system, which will allow tickets, violators, and vehicles recorded in JTAC to be chronicled in the local Spillman system, providing a wider availability of that information to patrol officers and investigators.

FIREARMS MANAGEMENT:

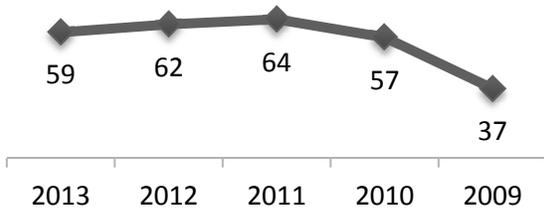

The Firearms Evidence Section, formed under the Office of Professional Standards in 2006, is tasked with the storage, processing, testing and tracing of firearms evidence.

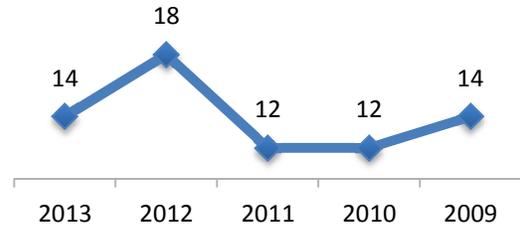

NEIGHBORHOOD RESPONSE TEAM (NRT)

The primary responsibility of the Neighborhood Response Team is to provide support to the four quadrant commanders with issues that cannot be resolved through a traditional uniform patrol. Most of these investigations deal with targeting career criminals. The duties of the team consist of, but are not limited to: surveillance, sting operations, dignitary protection, and long-term felony investigations. The team is currently staffed by one sergeant and six patrol officers.

CRISIS INTERVENTION TEAM (CIT):

The Fort Wayne Police Department continues to have a highly lauded CIT Program within the State of Indiana. People with mental illness, who are experiencing a crisis, are being well served with approximately (80) patrol officers spread throughout the city working three different shifts. Again, as in past years, the number of calls responded to have increased. The below performance indicators reflect an extremely low arrest rate and very good judgment as a whole in using physical force, chemical agent, or a conducted energy device on the person in crisis.

- Facilitate training in specific topics.

The secondary mission is to provide or host any secondary training that officers need or could benefit from and maintain the training records for all sworn and reserve officers, which is submitted to the Indiana Law Enforcement Training Board (LETB).

A 14-week Basic Patrol/Narcotic K9 course and a 4-week Narcotic K9 course were conducted in 2013. Additionally, the department acquired its first bloodhound. K9 Bella was trained for man trailing and was then tested and certified by the National Police Bloodhound Association in November. Progress continues to be made in the area of training additional instructors for the K9 Unit and the search for a suitable K9 training facility is on-going.

SCHOOL RESOURCE OFFICER PROGRAM:

The Fort Wayne Police Department has six officers assigned as School Resource Officers (SRO) at various high schools (North Side, Northrop, Wayne, Snider, South Side & Ward Education Ctr.) within the Fort Wayne Community School’s system. Each SRO is also responsible for his or her school’s feeder middle schools. SRO activities handled in 2013 include:

SAFETY EDUCATION BUREAU:

The Fort Wayne Police Department Safety Education Bureau is led by Officer Joyce Van Pelt and was created to provide traffic and pedestrian safety along with stranger awareness in a positive training environment to the children who attend. The miniature town (Safety Village) has been a fixture with the department for many years and provides children with real-life safety training. Local companies contribute to its maintenance. In 2013 Safety Village received (24) new vehicles (with batteries and chargers) for children to ride. The department partnered with Ivy Tech Community College for wiring and repairs to several buildings and participated in programs with Missing & Exploited Children & FOP Bicycle Helmet Give-Away.

OFFICE OF PUBLIC INFORMATION

The primary responsibility of this office is to promote the department in the most positive and professional light. This is accomplished in a variety of ways:

- Through the accurate and timely release of police information and activities to the public by way of the media. The office responds to over 200 report requests monthly and releases information daily to print media, local television and radio stations, and internet media. The office works very closely with the Investigative Support Division, the Crime Analysis Unit, and other divisions to identify topics that may be of concern to the public so that public service announcements can be generated.
- Making department presentations and engaging the public at community events. In 2013 the department partnered with other law enforcement and first responder agencies in the 19th Annual Battle for Blood, collecting just under 1,000 pints of blood and over 500 platelet products making it one of the best blood drive collections in many years.
- Hosting building tours and facilitating ride-along requests. The office recognizes the value that building tours and ride-alongs have in establishing community relationships. The office frequently incorporates tours of the facility as a supplement to ride-along requests submitted by officers.

Investigative Support Division

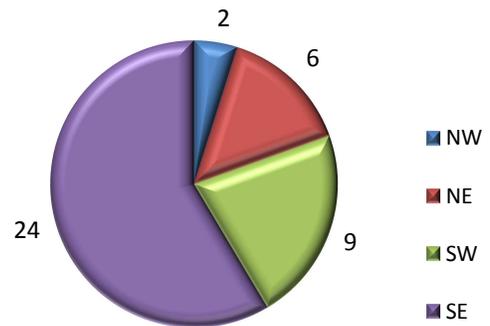

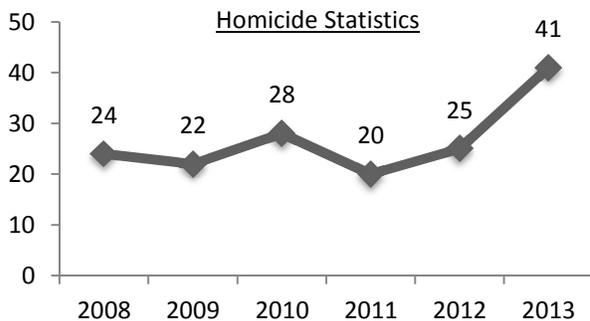

Paul Shrawder
Deputy Chief Investigative
Support Division

In 2013 the Investigative Support Division (ISD) was commanded by Deputy Chief Paul Shrawder and Captain Shane Lee. The ISD is responsible for the felony investigative function of the police department. Most of the sections are focused on specific or specialized areas of investigating criminal acts or support functions thereof. When citizens call the police to report felony criminal acts the usual response that comes to mind or is depicted in media coverage is the very visible response of marked police cars, lights, sirens, and uniformed officers. While the initial response is a major and necessary function of a police department within a community, it is the aftermath or follow-up stages of investigating an incident that, while not so visible, is a vital function of police services. The sections and units within ISD include: Detective Bureau, Vice and Narcotics Bureau, Crime Scene, Crime Lab, Property Room, Victim’s Assistance, and Crime Analysis. The over one hundred sworn police officers and civilian support staff assigned to the Investigate Support Division are committed to providing services to the citizens of Fort Wayne, bringing criminal suspects to trial and obtaining justice for victims of crime.

DETECTIVE BUREAU

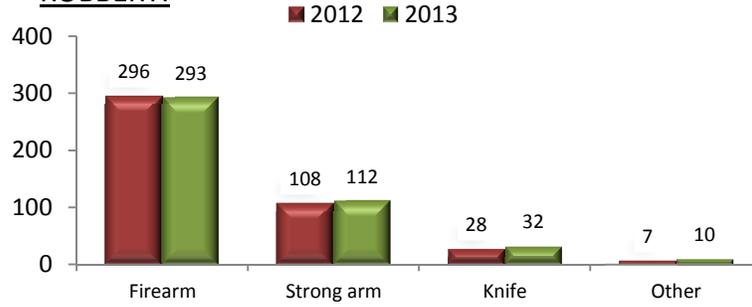

This section, often called the Detective Bureau, consists of sworn personnel who investigate felony incidents that occur within the City of Fort Wayne and may on occasion be asked to assist outside agencies with their investigations. Sections of the Detective Bureau include: Robbery/Homicide, Crimes Against Persons (Sex Crimes), Property Crimes, Financial Crimes, Domestic Violence Unit, Juvenile Crimes Unit, B-Shift and C-Shift Detectives.

Primary and secondary crime victims receive direct services to help stabilize their lives and meet their immediate needs. The outreach program initiates contact to inform victims about available services and their rights as crime victims and survivors. Victim's Assistance collaborates with a number of community and state agencies to provide training, community events and projects developed to address the emotional, physical, financial, social, spiritual, and cultural needs of crime victims.

In addition, the unit oversees officer/civilian training in various forensic disciplines and is responsible for operation, training & maintenance of the county-wide Automated Fingerprint Identification System (AFIS).

This unit is responsible for ensuring evidence collected and turned in is in accordance with the Fort Wayne Police Department's policies. In 2013 the Unit's Firearms section was restructured, inventoried, and researched to update items, such as IBIS testing, ATF tracing, DNA requests, and fingerprint requests.

CRIME ANALYSIS UNIT:

The general functions of the unit include:

- Review crime reports, detect crime patterns, and provide proactive information to the Investigative Support Division (ISD) and to the Operations Division (locations, suspects and statistical data).
- Effect quality control issues regarding the Spillman data sets.

The unit reads all felony reports for data accuracy and forwards all crime patterns and trends, crime maps and other related information to the ISD Section Commander and/or to the Operations Command staff, Street Crimes Unit, Neighborhood Response Team, and the Public Information Office. The statistical information is then compiled and forwarded to the FBI-URC. Additionally, the unit provides yearly crime data to the local colleges and universities so they can meet their Federal Government requirements (Clery Act). In 2013, the Unit added a Community Search option which went live on the FWPD website at: <http://www.fwpd.org/daily/community.html>. This new feature will allow the citizens to search for specific crime activity in certain neighborhoods, apartment complexes, additions, associations, and/or streets.

The team consists of (11) officers who have received specialized training in crisis negotiation techniques. The CRT works hand-in-hand with the Emergency Services Team (EST) and continues to train together on two regularly scheduled scenarios. Additionally, the CRT trains with the Allen County Police Department Negotiation Team and the New Haven Police Department SWAT. In 2013 a new negotiation robot was acquired, which is always set up for each callout.

A major area of focus for 2013 was in the area of Larceny, these efforts resulted in an 8% decrease from 2012. In spite of current economic challenges, the Northeast Division continues to maintain the lowest number of reported crimes of any other division within the department.

HONOR GUARD:

2013 was an extremely active year for the entire team. There were (17) commitments completed, which consisted of (100) assignments. The successful completion of each detail was made possible by the combined efforts of our team members, who on many occasions responded with little or no notice, dropping everything to make themselves available for each and every detail. In addition to commitments, members also attend training and practices to better represent the department. The team's professionalism and dedication has not gone without notice. On a continuous basis, the Honor Guard receives positive comments from the community, other agencies and retired officers from the department.

PIPE AND DRUM BRIGADE:

In 2013 the Pipe and Drum Brigade finished serving their 9th year of service with the Fort Wayne Police Department. During the year the Pipe and Drum Brigade was called upon to perform at local schools, churches, retired officer's funerals, and bring our fallen brothers and sisters to rest for line of duty death funerals. The brigade completed (14) commitments in 2013 and continues to serve the community due to the relentless pursuit of excellence on the part of its members. When a commitment is announced, with many having very short notice, the members make themselves available to serve, sometimes at great sacrifice to their families. In addition to regular duties, the Pipe and Drum Brigade gathers to train on Honor Guard protocol throughout the year. The brigade participated in conjunction with the Honor Guard during the year and some of the musicians have been called upon to serve with the Fort Wayne Fire Department Pipes and Drums.

The southern boundary includes the Fort Wayne International Airport, which is home to the Indiana Air National Guard. Overall crime in the division rose 8.5% in 2013. In September, due to combined efforts with the Southeast Division, a downtown police beat was formed. Officers assigned to this position worked Monday- Friday, patrolling on bicycles and providing service to increased pedestrian presence. The unit, which covers all four quadrants, consists of one sergeant, four officers, and one special agent with ATF. The focus of the unit is gang investigations; however, a direct correlation has been established between gangs, robberies, homicides and narcotics. Over the course of 2013, the unit has found itself expanding its areas of responsibility and focusing on violent crimes that have also increased over the course of the year. The unit has taken on a proactive intelligence based “Targeted Enforcement’ approach, and in doing so, has
